Fr. Gerard's Corner

God is doing something new! No, not the deliverance from exile Isaiah writes about in the first reading, when he makes this statement. Not the escape from Egypt Isaiah recalls. Not even the redemptive sacrifice Jesus makes on the cross. No, God is doing something new right here and now. It is in God's nature to care for the work of creation, and this includes humanity. The acts of salvation we recall are not just historical events; they are models for God's continuing grace in the world. Creation and salvation are ever new.

When a goal is within reach, it makes it a lot easier to overcome whatever obstacles stand in the way. A runner approaching the finish line knows this, no matter how difficult the race has been. Saint Paul knows this, as he has already suffered numerous hardships and knows there will be more to come. But he knows he has gained Christ, so nothing else matters. Therefore, he strains forward to the finish line, to reach "the prize of God's upward calling" (Philippians 3:14).

Witness the number of people given new life in today's readings. Isaiah tells of God putting water in the desert to give life to the Israelites who fled Egypt, and later, those who were delivered from exile in Babylon. Paul was given life in Christ when he encountered Jesus on the road to Damascus, which he testifies makes everything else "rubbish." The woman in the Gospel is given life by Jesus when he challenges the scribes and the Pharisees, then releases her. New life is promised to us as well, life lived in the light of Christ.

GOD'S ACTIONS NOW

When Jews celebrate the Passover, they always tell the story of the Exodus in present terms, as if they themselves experienced those events: when we were prisoners in Egypt; when God brought us out of slavery and through the waters of the sea. We would do well to follow their example and see the works of Jesus and his sacrifice as being in the present, as happening to us now. We believe that Christ's work, his teachings, and his sacrifice on the cross were not just for his followers in the past, but for all people at all times. When we think of this in our prayers, we become one in faith with that great cloud of witnesses, the saints.

We have been striving through Lent to repent of our sins and failings, and to follow Jesus more closely. Today in the story of the woman caught in adultery, we see Jesus forgiving the woman, saving her from a horrible death, and urging her not to sin any more. This is new, and brings out something for which the law had not allowed—forgiveness. Of course one can sin no more if one is dead, caught in one's sins forever. But Jesus introduces the concepts of forgiveness and reconciliation.

AMBITIONS

Many ambitions are nipped in the budget.

El rincón del P. Gerardo

¡Dios realiza algo nuevo! Y no se trata de la liberación del exilio al que se refiere Isaías en la primera lectura. Ni tampoco se trata de la huida de Egipto que recuerda Isaías. Ni siquiera se trata del sacrificio redentor que Jesús hace en la cruz. No, Dios está realizando algo nuevo aquí mismo y ahora mismo. Dios, por su misma naturaleza, cuida de su creación, lo cual incluye la humanidad. Las obras de la salvación que recordamos no son solamente acontecimientos históricos; son modelos de la continua gracia de Dios en el mundo. La creación y la salvación son siempre y para siempre nuevas.

Cuando una meta está al alcance se hace más fácil superar todos los obstáculos que encontramos en el camino. Esto lo sabe bien un corredor que va a la cabeza y se acerca a la recta final, no importa cuán difícil haya sido la carrera. San Pablo sabe esto, pues ya ha pasado por numerosas adversidades y está consciente de que habrán más; pero también sabe que ha ganado a Cristo y por eso más nada es importante. Por lo tanto se esfuerza para llegar a la recta final, para alcanzar “la meta y el trofeo al que Dios, por medio de Cristo Jesús, nos llama desde el cielo” (filipenses 3, 14).

Las lecturas de hoy nos permiten presenciar el número de personas a quienes se les ha dado una vida nueva. Isaías nos dice que Dios puso agua en el desierto para darle vida a los israelitas que habían huido de Egipto y después a aquellos que habían sido liberados del exilio en Babilonia. A Pablo se le dio una vida en Cristo cuando se encontró con Jesús camino a Damasco y dice que todo lo demás lo considera “basura”. A la mujer en el Evangelio también se le da vida cuando Jesús desafía a los escribas y fariseos, y después la despide sin condenarla. También a nosotros se nos promete una vida nueva, una vida vivida a la luz de Cristo.

Un encuentro con Ona

Ona estudió mucho y obtuvo su título de maestra en una universidad. Sin embargo, en Gaza, los trabajos son difíciles de encontrar. A pesar de que Ona había sido una buena alumna, no pudo encontrar trabajo como maestra. “La situación financiera era tan difícil”, dice Ona. “Empecé a sentirme desesperada”. A través de CRS, Ona solicitó una pasantía de docencia y fue contratada para enseñar matemáticas. A través de su pasantía, Ona obtuvo la confianza y la inspiración para diversificarse por su cuenta. Ella ahorró suficiente dinero para abrir un centro de tutoría. Ahora ella ayuda a estudiantes de todas las edades con sus habilidades en matemáticas, así como con otras materias. St. James—St. Leo Catholic Community is under the pastoral care of the Eudist Fathers, or Congregation of Jesus and Mary. We owe our name to Saint John Eudes who founded the Congregation in France in 1643. Evangelization, mainly with the poor and the youth, is our primary purpose, as well as formation to ministry in the training of diocesan priests and lay ministers. Our motto is "To Serve Christ and His Church." For more information visit: <http://www.eudistsusa.org>
