Seventeenth Sunday in Ordinary Time ~ July 28, 2019

Under the care of the Eudist Fathers of the North American Province

Welcome Fr. Michael Bormate from the Philippines!

Fr. Michael Bormate is a priest from the Diocese of Borongan, Eastern Samar in the Philippines. He will be here at St. James this weekend to celebrate Mass with us. Fr. Bormate will tell the story of his brother priests – especially the elderly and the sick priests who have no proper place to stay in their retirement or period of recuperation.

The lack of a Home for Priests is a cause of great concern for his Bishop and for the aged and sickly priests. Fresh from the devastation of super Typhoon Haiyan, their province is still gradually rising from the ruins and their local material resources are barely enough to allow the construction of the said necessary facility. Surely, they need whatever help we can extend to them so that they can realize their goal of having a Home for Priests at a more conducive location. Special yellow envelopes are available in the pews. Take one today and bring it back or pick one up next weekend and return in the collection.

Thank you for your generous support!

Fr. Gerard's Corner

Abraham addresses God quite boldly in the reading from Genesis. So too does the person who wakes up a friend in the middle of the night to ask for bread. Such boldness may make many of us uncomfortable. But note that there is an ameliorating factor in these stories. In both cases, the petitioner is asking for someone else's benefit, not his own. Abraham makes his plea on behalf of potentially innocent people in Sodom. The disciple asks for a friend who has paid an unexpected visit. Though there is nothing wrong with petitioning God for something for oneself—an egg, our daily bread, forgiveness—both examples of persistence in prayer in today's readings involve selfless petition.

When Abraham bargains with God, it shifts the focus of the story from the sinfulness of the people in Sodom and Gomorrah to the tension between justice and mercy. How can a loving God be the source of both, especially in a case in which innocents may suffer? By going so far, by lowering the bar for mercy six successive times, Abraham reveals that God is always willing to show mercy, no matter how few are worthy.

When we are desperate to obtain or achieve something, we persist. Persistence in prayer indicates the importance we place upon what we pray for. In Luke's Gospel, Jesus prays persistently. From the moment he is baptized to the moment he dies on the cross, Jesus lifts up his voice to his Father. In today's passage, it is the fact that he has just finished praying that leads the disciples to ask him to teach them how to pray. Jesus' persistence in prayer, therefore, has led to a prayer we persist in saying today.

Question of the Week:

What have I prayed for persistently in the past?
Am I receptive when I am asked for something persistently?

El rincón del P. Gerardo

En la lectura del Génesis, Abraham se dirige a Dios de una manera bien audaz. Igual hace la persona que despierta al amigo en medio de la noche para pedirle pan. Puede que esa audacia nos haga sentir incómodos a algunos de nosotros, pero fijémonos que existe un factor mitigante en estas historias. En ambos casos, el suplicante no pide para beneficio propio, sino para otra persona. Abraham presenta su súplica en nombre de la gente, posiblemente inocente, de Sodoma. El discípulo suplica por un amigo que le ha llegado inesperadamente. Aunque no tiene nada de malo pedirle a Dios algo para nosotros mismos, tal como un alimento, nuestro pan de cada día o el perdón, los dos ejemplos de persistencia en la oración que están en las lecturas de hoy comportan súplicas desinteresadas.

Cuando Abraham regatea con Dios, el enfoque de la historia cambia. Ya la atención no se pone en el pecado de la gente de Sodoma y Gomorra, sino en la tensión entre la justicia y la misericordia. ¿Cómo puede un Dios amoroso ser fuente de ambas cosas, especialmente en el caso de que sufran los inocentes? Abraham se pasa de la raya al disminuir las expectativas y así pone de manifiesto que Dios siempre está dispuesto a dar su misericordia sin importar que muy pocas personas sean dignas de ella.

Cuando nos desesperamos por conseguir o lograr algo, persistimos en ello. La persistencia en la oración indica la importancia que ponemos en aquello por lo cual rezamos. En el Evangelio de Lucas, Jesús ora persistentemente. Desde el momento en que fue bautizado hasta el momento de su muerte en la cruz Jesús eleva su voz al Padre. En el pasaje de hoy acaba de terminar su oración y es lo que inspira a los discípulos a pedirle que los enseñe a orar. La persistencia de Jesús en la oración, por lo tanto, nos ha dado a nosotros una oración que hoy persistimos en hacer.

St. James—St. Leo Catholic Community is under the pastoral care of the Eudist Fathers, or Congregation of Jesus and Mary. We owe our name to Saint John Eudes who founded the Congregation in France in 1643. Evangelization, mainly with the poor and the youth, is our primary purpose, as well as formation to ministry in the training of diocesan priests and lay ministers. Our motto is "To Serve Christ and His Church." For more information visit: <http://www.eudistsusa.org>
