Fr. Gerard's Corner

Who would leave ninety-nine sheep in the middle of the desert to search for a stray, Jesus asks. Pretty much only someone who wanted to get fired from any shepherding job, that's who. Sheep were a valued commodity; they could provide food, drink, and clothing. Leaving ninety-nine sheep vulnerable in the desert where they could be stolen or wander off, while taking the risk of getting lost yourself with no assurance of ever finding the wayward lamb would be exercising very poor judgment. Yet Jesus holds this behavior up as praiseworthy.

Perhaps the key to this lesson is patience. The sheep who is lost is more important than the ninety-nine, for it is most in need. If another sheep wanders off while the first is being rescued, it would become the most important. Maybe two or three others wander off. Then they become the most important. And so on. But this is all right, because this shepherd has infinite time and infinite patience. The Good Shepherd welcomes back each sheep with no less joy than the last. Jesus' lesson is not a how-to manual for shepherders. It is a lesson in God's infinite care and compassion.

Anyone can be found worthy of reconciliation. The Chosen People turned their backs on the LORD and worshiped a golden calf, but God stuck with them. Saint Paul persecuted the early church, but God called him to be apostle to the Gentiles. The prodigal son turned his back on his father and dissipated his inheritance, but his father welcomed him back with a grand feast.

Question of the Week:

How can I imitate the father in Jesus' parable?
Whom can I welcome back?

"To love God, proclaim the good news of Jesus Christ, and serve all God's people."

RISE ABOVE THE CULTURE OF MORAL RELATIVISM

This 8-part study program gives us the key to responding to relativism effectively: a Catholic moral worldview. This study program gives Catholics greater confidence in God's moral law, greater clarity in how to explain it effectively to our secular friends, and greater compassion for those with whom we disagree. This is NOT a study that argues social issues. It is about what we believe as Catholics regarding truth, virtue, and responding with love.

El rincón del P. Gerardo

¿Quién dejaría noventa y nueve ovejas en el medio del desierto para ir en busca de una perdida?, pregunta Jesús. Virtualmente alguien que quiera que lo despidan de su trabajo de pastor, pero nadie más. Las ovejas eran un producto valioso, pues podían proveer alimento, bebida y ropa. Dejar noventa y nueve ovejas vulnerables en el desierto donde se las podrían robar o se pudieran descarriar y además arriesgarse el pastor a perderse sin garantía de encontrar a la descarriada sería de poco juicio. Así y todo Jesús insiste en que ese comportamiento es encomiable.

Tal vez la clave de esta lección es la paciencia. La oveja perdida es más importante que las noventa y nueve, pues es la más necesitada. Si otra oveja se descarriara mientras la primera ha sido rescatada se convertiría en la más importante. Quizás otras dos o tres se descarriaran, entonces serían las más importantes. Y así sucesivamente. Pero eso resulta ser lo correcto, porque este pastor tiene un tiempo infinito y una paciencia infinita. El Buen Pastor recibe de nuevo a cada oveja con el mismo regocijo que a la última. La lección de Jesús no es un manual de instrucciones para los pastores, sino más bien una lección sobre la infinita ternura y compasión de Dios.

A los ojos de Dios nadie está perdido. Toda persona puede ser digna de reconciliación. El pueblo escogido le dio la espalda a Dios y adoraron un becerro de metal, pero Dios permaneció con su pueblo. San Pablo persiguió a la Iglesia primitiva, pero Dios lo llamó a ser el apóstol de los paganos. El hijo pródigo le dio la espalda a su padre y desperdigó su herencia, pero su padre lo recibió de nuevo con un gran banquete.

Pregunta del Día

¿Cómo puedo imitar al padre de la parábola de Jesús? ¿A quiénes puedo recibir de nuevo?

LECTURAS DE HOY

Primera lectura — Porque Moisés intercedió, el Señor se ablandó y no castigó al pueblo por su maldad (Éxodo 32:7-11, 13-14).

Salmo — Me levantaré y volveré a mi padre (Salmo 51 [50]).

Segunda lectura — Pablo expresa su gratitud por haber sido nombrado al ministerio de Cristo (1 Timoteo 1:12-17).

Evangelio — Hay gran regocijo en el cielo cuando un pecador se arrepiente (Lucas 15:1-32) [1-10].

St. James—St. Leo Catholic Community is under the pastoral care of the Eudist Fathers, or Congregation of Jesus and Mary. We owe our name to Saint John Eudes who founded the Congregation in France in 1643. Evangelization, mainly with the poor and the youth, is our primary purpose, as well as formation to ministry in the training of diocesan priests and lay ministers. Our motto is "To Serve Christ and His Church." For more information visit: <http://www.eudistsusa.org>
