Fr. Gerard's Corner

Jesus called Simon Peter after filling his net on an otherwise fruitless evening of fishing. Having witnessed this miracle, Peter and his partners immediately left their families and jobs to follow Jesus. But in today's passage, Jesus encourages would-be disciples to follow the examples of a tower builder and an army leader, each of whom deliberates at length before reaching a practical conclusion. We may be bowled over by a miracle, but it is more likely we will follow based on practical considerations. Jesus asks us to consider the practical question: Is it more important to accumulate possessions or to follow the One who opened the way to eternal life?

Interestingly, each statement Jesus makes about discipleship he phrases negatively, ending with "... cannot be my disciple." Jesus is aware that the demands of discipleship are not likely to be accepted. Jesus is challenging us to do what seems impossible, spurning one's family, one's possessions, one's comfort, even one's own life.

A few Sundays ago we heard Jesus say that he would divide family members against each other (Luke 12:52-53). Now he tells the crowd that his disciples must hate their families (14:26). Is Jesus really anti-family? Perhaps he just wants to redefine "family." Look at Onesimus in the second reading. Seen as a slave, he was excluded from Philemon's family. Now he is a brother to Paul, so Paul urges Philemon to welcome Onesimus as a partner and brother as well. Families are wonderful, but the Christian family can be so much more. Perhaps it's not the members of one's family Jesus is criticizing, but our narrow concept of "family."

El rincón del P. Gerardo

Jesús llamó a Simón Pedro después de haber llenado sus redes en una tarde de pesca que hubiese sido infructífera. Al ver este milagro Pedro y sus compañeros dejaron inmediatamente sus familias y sus trabajos para seguir a Jesús. Pero en el pasaje de hoy Jesús anima a sus futuros discípulos a seguir el ejemplo del constructor de una torre y de un rey combatiente, que deliberan detenidamente antes de llegar a una conclusión práctica. Puede que un milagro nos impresione, pero lo más probable es que nuestra decisión de seguir a alguien se base en consideraciones prácticas. Jesús nos pide que consideremos una pregunta práctica: ¿Qué es más importante, acumular bienes o seguir a Aquel que nos abrió el camino hacia la vida eterna?

Resulta interesante que cada afirmación que hace Jesús acerca del discipulado lo termina con una frase negativa: "...no puede ser mi discípulo". Jesús está consciente de que probablemente las exigencias del discipulado no sean aceptadas y por eso nos reta a hacer lo que parece imposible, esto es, preferirlo a él por encima de familia, de bienes y de aun la propia vida.

Unos domingos atrás escuchamos a Jesús decir que él dividiría a miembros de la misma familia, unos en contra de los otros (Lucas 12, 52-53). Ahora le dice a la muchedumbre que sus discípulos deben preferirlo a él por encima de sus familias (14, 26). ¿Está Jesús en contra de las familias? O tal vez quiera redefinir el significado de "familia". Fijémonos en Onésimo en la segunda lectura. Por ser esclavo fue excluido de la familia de Filemón, pero ahora es un hermano de Pablo y por eso Pablo insta a Filemón para que reciba a Onésimo como un hermano amadísimo. La familia es algo maravilloso, pero la familia cristiana puede ser mucho más. Tal vez lo que Jesús critica no sean los miembros de nuestra familia, sino nuestro estrecho concepto de lo que es una "familia".

Pregunta del Día

¿De qué manera necesito transformarme a mí mismo para ser un verdadero discípulo? ¿Quiénes son parte de mi familia?

Segunda lectura — Pablo pide a Filemón que acepte a su esclavo, Onésimo, pero no como esclavo, sino como hermano (Filemón 9-10, 12-17).

POST-SUMMER CHALLENGES

With any luck, summer delights will continue a while past last weekend's Labor Day: refreshing recreation (with maybe an occasional swim) or enjoyable relaxation on the deck (with tasty outdoor grilling). Truth is, for some of us, this year's Labor Day came way too early. With many schools back in session for a while already, mealtimes and driving schedules needed readjustment to coordinate youth sports with adult commitments. Some religious education and parish programs resumed, too. No surprise, then, that this weekend's scriptures sound a little like post-summer challenges. For instance, Wisdom reminds us that believers in God can never be content with "timid deliberations" and "unsure plans." Paul challenges longtime friend and follower Philemon to "let the good you do be voluntary." Jesus instructs "great crowds" traveling with him—including us—on three things necessary for all true disciples to accomplish. On this early autumn weekend, our scriptures describe disciples' lifelong labors.

St. James—St. Leo Catholic Community is under the pastoral care of the Eudist Fathers, or Congregation of Jesus and Mary. We owe our name to Saint John Eudes who founded the Congregation in France in 1643. Evangelization, mainly with the poor and the youth, is our primary purpose, as well as formation to ministry in the training of diocesan priests and lay ministers. Our motto is "To Serve Christ and His Church." For more information visit: <http://www.eudistsusa.org>
