Fr. Gerard's Corner

Last week we heard Jesus tell his disciples, "Do not think that I have come to abolish the law or the prophets. I have come not to abolish but to fulfill" (Mat 5:17). Indeed, we hear Jesus use the same words in today's Gospel that the Torah uses in the first reading. "You shall not bear hatred . . . take no revenge . . . love your neighbor," God says to Moses (Lv 19: 17-18). The difference is in how the word "neighbor" was understood. In Leviticus, "neighbor" meant "fellow citizen." The Old Testament is filled with incidents in which the Chosen People took revenge against people and leaders who persecuted them, people who were not "fellow citizens." What Jesus says, whether making a Samaritan the hero of the parable he used to answer the question, "Who is my neighbor?" or saying "Love your enemies and pray for those who persecute you," is a radical change (Mat 5:44).

"An eye for an eye and a tooth for a tooth" (Mat 5:38, from Ex 21:24), known as the lex talionis, may seem like a defense of vengeance, but at the time it was considered a measured and moderate response. Found in records as early as the eighteenth century BCE, it was a civilized development over practices that allowed or even expected the wronged party to exact revenge way out of proportion to the initial injury. Lex talionis prohibits wanton revenge; Jesus prohibits revenge entirely.

Still, the last instruction Jesus gives, "Be perfect," sounds impossible. Only God is perfect. We are human and are incapable of true perfection. And yet, as Saint Paul says in the second reading, "the Spirit of God dwells in you" (1 Cor 3:16). Our challenge is to allow the Holy Spirit to come to full—and perfect—expression in us.

Centering Prayer

Tuesdays 9AM

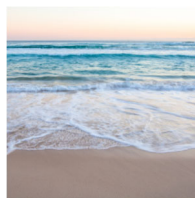

St. James Parish

Centering Prayer is a method designed to facilitate the development of contemplative prayer by preparing our faculties to receive this gift. It presents ancient Christian wisdom teachings in an updated form. Centering Prayer is not meant to replace other kinds of prayer; rather it casts a new light and depth of meaning on them. It is at the same time a relationship with God and a discipline to foster that relationship. This method of prayer is a movement beyond conversation with Christ to communion with him.

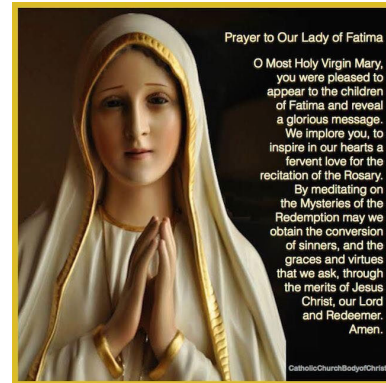

Be still and know that I am God.—Psalm 46:10

Prayer, fasting, and almsgiving: these disciplines, prescribed by Jesus himself in the Sermon on the Mount, along with strict instructions not to flaunt them in public to win recognition and praise (Matthew 6:1-18), have been embraced by all the saints at the beginning of every Lent for almost two thousand years. But mention Lent, and many react with a grimace or slight shudder—even now, years after official obligations have been reduced to a minimum! No wonder the Eastern Rite's "Lenten Announcement" sounds surprising: "Let us receive with joy, O faithful people, the divinely inspired announcement of Lent! The Lenten Spring shines forth! Begin the fast with joy! Let us fast from passions as well as food, taking pleasure in the good works of the Spirit, and accomplishing them in love!" Saint John Chrysostom, whose feast is September 13, elaborates: "Do you fast? Give proof by your works. If you see a poor person, take pity. An enemy, be reconciled. A friend gaining honor, don't be jealous." A positive approach! May the saints help us keep such a Lent!

El Rincón del P. Gerardo

La semana pasada oímos a Jesús decirle a sus discípulos: “No crean que he venido a abolir la ley o los profetas; no he venido a abolirlos, sino a darles plenitud” (Mateo 5, 17). Efectivamente, en el Evangelio de hoy escuchamos a Jesús usar las mismas palabras que usa la Torá en la primera lectura: “No odies. . . ni guardes rencor. . . ama a tu prójimo”, así le dice Dios a Moisés (Levítico 19, 17-18). La diferencia raya en cómo se entendía la palabra “prójimo”. En el libro del Levítico “prójimo” quería decir “conciudadano”. El Antiguo Testamento está lleno de incidentes en que el pueblo escogido tomó venganza contra pueblos y líderes que los perseguían, los cuales no eran “conciudadanos”. Lo que Jesús dice, ya sea haciendo del samaritano el héroe de la parábola que usó para contestar la pregunta de “¿quién es mi prójimo” o ya sea al decir “amen a sus enemigos y rueguen por los que los persiguen” es un cambio radical (Mateo 5, 44).

“Ojo por ojo, diente por diente” (Mateo 5, 38, del libro del Éxodo 21, 24), conocido como el lex talionis (la ley del talión), pudiera parecer como una defensa de la venganza, pero en aquel tiempo era considerado como una respuesta conmensurada y moderada. Se ha encontrado en registros que datan desde el siglo dieciocho AEC y se trataba de una variación civilizada de ciertas prácticas que permitían, y aun anticipaban, que la parte perjudicada cobrara una venganza excesivamente desproporcionada del daño causado. Lex talionis prohíbe la venganza excesiva; Jesús prohíbe la venganza del todo.

Aun así, la instrucción que da Jesús de “sean perfectos” suena imposible. Sólo Dios es perfecto. Somos humanos y por lo tanto incapaces de la verdadera perfección. Y sin embargo, tal como dice san Pablo en la segunda lectura, “el Espíritu de Dios habita en ustedes” (1 corintios 3, 16). Nuestro desafío consiste en permitirle al Espíritu Santo que tome posesión plena y perfectamente de nosotros.

Padre Gerard Lecomte, CJM

St. James—St. Leo Catholic Community is under the pastoral care of the Eudist Fathers, or Congregation of Jesus and Mary. We owe our name to Saint John Eudes who founded the Congregation in France in 1643. Evangelization, mainly with the poor and the youth, is our primary purpose, as well as formation to ministry in the training of diocesan priests and lay ministers. Our motto is "To Serve Christ and His Church." For more information visit: <http://www.eudistsusa.org>
