Fr. Gerard's Corner

In the Gospel Jesus is transfigured. His face shines like the sun, his clothes become white as light. He is joined by his closest friends, as well as Moses and Elijah. They hear God's voice from the cloud: "This is my beloved Son" (Matthew 17:5). In just a few weeks Jesus will be disfigured. He will be struck, scourged, spat upon, and mocked with a crown of thorns. Spikes will pierce his hands and feet as he is nailed to a cross. His friends will have abandoned him. There will be no voice from a cloud; Jesus will believe himself forsaken by his Father. Bystanders will think he is calling for Elijah. We are called to accept both visions of his identity: the disfigured Victim, the transfigured Lord. Transfigured today, Jesus becomes disfigured for our sins, to be transfigured in glory in the end.

God's blessings are not showered down on us as a reward for anything we have done. Abram had done nothing of significance before the passage we hear today, in which God promises to bless him in five ways (founder of a great nation, blessed personally, bless his name, bless those who bless him, curse those who curse him). Paul reminds Timothy that God saved us "not according to our works but according to (God's) own design" (2 Timothy 1:9). God's ultimate blessing, of course, is Jesus himself. We did nothing to merit his incarnation, let alone his ultimate sacrifice.

Jesus' final line of today's Gospel reads like a spoiler alert: "Do not tell the vision to anyone until the Son of Man has been raised from the dead" (Matthew 17:9). It is as if Peter, James, and John had seen an advance trailer that could ruin the ending for everyone else. No worries. In the next chapter of Matthew, the disciples argue over who is the greatest. It appears that they have missed the point once again. They are still struggling with God's command: "Listen to him" (17:5).

Saints and Special Observances

- Sunday: Second Sunday of Lent;
Daylight Saving Time begins;
International Women's Day
 Monday: St. Frances of Rome; Purim (Jewish observance) begins at sunset
 Friday: Abstinence

At our Bishop's request, and in the spirit of caution, we will be celebrating the Eucharist by means of the host only until further notice. Please refrain from receiving communion on the tongue.

During the sign of peace, we ask you to be prudent during this time of uncertainty. Gluten free hosts will continue to be offered as well.

Low Gluten Hosts

Are you aware that you can receive Holy Communion on Sunday with a low-gluten host? Before Mass begins, ask any usher to direct you to the Sacristan, who will make sure a consecrated low-gluten host is available to you at Communion time.

Centering Prayer

St. James Parish

Tuesdays 9 AM

Centering Prayer is a method designed to facilitate the development of contemplative prayer by preparing our faculties to receive this gift. It presents ancient Christian Wisdom teachings in an updated form. It is not meant to replace other kinds of prayer; rather it casts a new light and depth of meaning on them. It is at the same time a relationship with God and a discipline to foster that relationship. This method of prayer is a movement beyond conversation with Christ to communion with him.

Thursday morning the Vatican announced the appointment by Pope Francis of Father Ramón Bejarano, a priest of the diocese of Stockton, as the new Auxiliary Bishop at the Diocese of San Diego. Bejarano, who has roots on the U.S.-Mexico border, joins the existing leadership of the diocese.

Bishop-Elect Bejarano, 50, was born in Seagraves, Texas, on July 17, 1969, the son of José and María Elena Bejarano. Bishop-Elect Bejarano has two brothers, a sister and a mother who live in Texas. His father passed away in 1995.

He was ordained to the priesthood by the Most Rev. Donald Montrose on Aug. 15, 1998 for service in the diocese of Stockton. He will be consecrated as bishop on Tuesday, April 21, 2020. Bejarano will become only the second Hispanic auxiliary bishop in San Diego. Auxiliary Bishop Gilbert Chávez served in that capacity for 33 years before retiring in 2007.

"I am humbled and honored by my appointment as Auxiliary Bishop of San Diego," said Bishop-Elect Bejarano. "It is a great sadness for me to leave the people and parishes whom I have served for the past 21 years. But I am joyful that I will be ministering in the Diocese of San Diego and serving this diverse and vibrant local Church." www.thesoutherncross.org

El Rincon del Padre Gerardo

En el Evangelio Jesús es transfigurado. Su rostro brilla como el sol, su ropa se vuelve blanca como la luz. Él está con sus amigos más íntimos y también con Moisés y Elías. Ellos escuchan a Dios, cuya voz sale de una nube: “Éste es mi Hijo muy amado” (Mateo 17, 5). Dentro de sólo unas pocas semanas Jesús será desfigurado. Le van a pegar, a flagelar, a escupir, se van a burlar de él y le pondrán una corona de espinas. Los clavos atravesarán sus manos y pies para clavarlo en la cruz. Sus amigos lo abandonarán. Ninguna voz saldrá de una nube; Jesús se creará abandonado por el Padre. Los espectadores pensarán que está llamando a Elías. Nosotros debemos aceptar ambas imágenes de su identidad: la Víctima desfigurada y el Señor transfigurado. Jesús, que es transfigurado hoy, es desfigurado por nuestros pecados, pero al final será transfigurado en su gloria.

Las bendiciones de Dios no se nos dan copiosamente como recompensa por lo que hayamos hecho. Abram no había hecho nada significativo antes del pasaje que escuchamos hoy donde Dios promete bendecirlo de cinco maneras diferentes: fundará una gran nación, será bendecido personalmente, bendecirá su nombre, bendecirá a los que lo bendigan y maldecirá a los que lo maldigan. Pablo le recuerda a Timoteo que Dios nos ha salvado “no porque lo merecieran nuestras obras, sino porque así lo dispuso (Dios) gratuitamente” (2 Timoteo 1, 9). La bendición definitiva de Dios es, por supuesto, el mismo Jesús. No hicimos nada para merecer su encarnación y mucho menos para merecer su máximo sacrificio.

La última frase de Jesús en el Evangelio de hoy suena como para arruinar una sorpresa: “No le cuenten a nadie lo que han visto, hasta que el Hijo del hombre haya resucitado de entre los muertos” (Mateo 17, 9). Es como si Pedro, Santiago y Juan hayan presenciado un acontecimiento, cuyo avance pudiera arruinarle el final del mismo a otras personas. No hay que preocuparse. En el próximo capítulo de Mateo los discípulos discuten acerca de quién es el más importante. Tal parece que, una vez más, no han entendido. Todavía están batallando con el mandamiento de Dios: “Escúchenlo” (17, 5).

SEGUNDA SEMANA DE CUARESMA UN ENCUENTRO CON TRINH

La familia de Trinh es agricultora en Vietnam y se han visto afectados por el cambio climático. Trinh muestra su amor por su familia haciendo las tareas domésticas. Ella ayuda a su familia bañando a su hermana pequeña, Trang; ella le muestra cómo lavarse las manos y la ayuda con el trabajo escolar. A Trinh le gusta lavar la tetera y las tazas y recoger los huevos de los patos. A menudo, Trinh monta su bicicleta para obtener medicamentos para sus padres cuando están enfermos. Su casa está cerca de un río, y cuando hay tormentas, la casa de Trinh a menudo se llena de agua. “Desearía tener una casa que no esté mojada o con goteras y que no se inunde más”, dice Trinh. En Vietnam, CRS está trabajando con estudiantes como Trinh, ayudándoles a aprender formas de proteger su hogar, comida y familia de tormentas destructivas para ayudar a su familia.

St. James—St. Leo Catholic Community is under the pastoral care of the Eudist Fathers, or Congregation of Jesus and Mary. We owe our name to Saint John Eudes who founded the Congregation in France in 1643. Evangelization, mainly with the poor and the youth, is our primary purpose, as well as formation to ministry in the training of diocesan priests and lay ministers. Our motto is "To Serve Christ and His Church." For more information visit: <http://www.eudistsusa.org>
